

FIT GUIDE

How to measure your jacket

A jacket built to fit you, not a generic size. Getting your size right takes just a few minutes.

HOW THIS WORKS

- 1 Measure
your body, or a jacket you own. A few minutes.
- 2 Send your size
enter it at checkout.
- 3 We build it
cut to fit you, not a generic block.

99%

of people who submit their measurements get an accurate fit the first time.

WHAT TO MEASURE

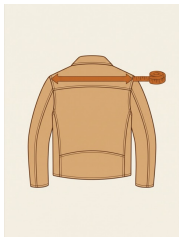

Everything we measure, in one view. Full detail on the next page.

WHAT TO MEASURE

Where to measure

Easiest way: lay a jacket that already fits you flat and measure it. Or measure your body. All in inches.

1

Shoulder Width
Measure straight across the back, from one shoulder seam to the other.

2

Chest Circumference
Around the fullest part of the chest. Or lay a jacket that fits flat, measure across, and double it.

3

Waist / Belly
Around the fullest part of your stomach, below the chest. Keep the tape level — this is the widest point, so the jacket clears it.

4

Hem Width
Lay a jacket that fits flat and measure straight across the very bottom hem opening.

5

Jacket Length
From the highest point of the shoulder straight down to the hem. Or lay a jacket that fits you flat, top to bottom.

6

Sleeve Length
From the shoulder seam at the top of the arm, straight down the outside of the arm to the end of the cuff.

7

Cuff Width
Lay a sleeve flat and measure straight across the cuff opening at the wrist.

Tip
Measure twice and write it down. A tape that stays level and snug beats a rushed guess every time.
